Right to resist a zoning change

July 18, 2008

I take exception to the letter that characterized the Roland Park residents critical of the Keswick Multi-Care Center land deal as misguided ("Focus on land deal badly misplaced," letters, July 15).

The writer's analogy of the deal to a new homeowner not permitting kids to play in his or her yard clearly misses the point.

Keswick is proposing a plan that requires a zoning change for the land. Roland Park residents, as taxpayers of the city, have every right to vigorously fight such a zoning change.

All city residents should support our right to work to preserve the fabric of this historic neighborhood.

Maintaining the neighborhood's character will ensure that property values remain high and safeguard the tax revenues paid to the city.

Roland Park residents do not claim the Baltimore Country Club property as their own. But we do intend to fight the proposed zoning change because, yes, that is in the best interest of our city.
