1. Master Plan Community Survey — All Residents Please Complete — Your Input Is very Important.

The Greater Roland Park Area Master Plan remains on target for completion by the Roland Park area community meeting on May 19, 2010 at the RP Elementary/Middle School.

We need each household to complete a community survey, something that will take only a few minutes. It is very easy, and it requires no registration and no computer expertise. One person per household, please.

The results will be used along with other input to determine the ranking of various interventions and the order of planned implementation. We need each household to participate. It takes less than 10 minutes and it is available at:

<http://www.rolandpark.org/MasterPlan.html#survey>.

The link to the survey page is also near the top of the RolandPark.org homepage.

Residents can fill this out from any computer. If one is not available at home, computers are accessible at the Roland Park library. If a resident has no way to access the Internet and/or must fill out the survey on paper, he or she should contact the Roland Park office at (410) 464-2525 for assistance.

Also, please remember to hold the date: May 19 from 7-9 p.m., Roland Park Elementary/Middle School. This is when the completed master plan will be presented.

2. Draft Housing Section Ready for Review.

The last draft section of the master plan is ready for review. This is the housing section and it may be found here: <http://rolandpark.org/MasterPlan.html#sections>. It is the last link.
